DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-42, 44 and 45 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kapusnik et al (US 5,452,839).

Kapusnik et al disclose a welding apparatus and method of welding a stud onto a metal sheet comprising a hand held welding gun (2), a welding gauge (plate with 3 triangular holes and the middle hole for stud insertion), a positioner (24s) attached to the gun, wherein the element is a metal stud and can be welded to a metal sheet. The alignment feature is the welding gauge as shown in figure 1. The alignment feature is the hole or the pin on the welding gauge or the gun as shown in figure 1. The hole is adjustable, the positioner can be moved relative to the hole. The gauge has three alignment features. The positioner is inserted into the hole as shown in figure 1. The alignment features are placed in a triangle pattern around the element (figure 1). In arc welding process, it is conventional and inherent to create an arc by lifting the element from the component to create an electric arc, then turning on the welding current, followed by lowering the element onto the component to mingle the molten material, and then solidify the combined molten metal material to weld.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-42 and new claims 44-45 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Applicant argues that Kapusnik et al fail to teach the new limitation, "the positioner being elongated greater than and substantially parallel to an externally exposed portion of the element holder." Applicant additionally cites figure 1 of applicant's invention and paragraph 19 and 29 of the specification. However, after reviewing the figures and indicated paragraphs, it is believed that the positioner is shorter than the holding means. Therefore, applicant's amendment and argument do not correspond with the disclosure. The rejection remains based on the broadest interpretation.

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
